GAITHERSBURG, Md., September 25, 2017—Emergent BioSolutions Inc. “Emergent’s continued supply of RSDL reinforces our longstanding commitment to partner with governments around the world to provide life-saving products that protect against chemical and biological health threats,” said Sean Kirk, senior vice president, manufacturing operations and interim head, devices business unit at Emergent BioSolutions. “We are pleased with this renewed DoD contract, which follows a recent successful launch of RSDL in the commercial market. Supporting preparedness efforts of both civilians and military forces is an important part of Emergent’s mission – to protect life.”

RSDL has been cleared by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and licensed by Health Canada, the Israeli Ministry of Health, and the Australian Therapeutic Goods Administration. About RSDL

The RSDL Kit is an FDA-cleared decontaminant that removes or neutralizes chemical warfare agents and T-2 toxin from the skin. It consists of a sponge impregnated with a lotion in an impermeable packet. Decontamination occurs by physical removal of the chemical warfare agent from the skin or by chemical neutralization. The RSDL Kit is lightweight, portable, and has been deployed by the U.S. military for over 10 years. RSDL is for external use only, to be used only if chemical warfare agent exposure is suspected. Use RSDL only as directed. It is not intended for prophylactic use or decontamination of the whole body.
